A man, his wife and five children were on a train going Boston-ward the other day. The man took almost sole charge of the children, and was also quick to anticipate the wants of the wife. Two ladies were seated near them, and one of them remarked to the other, "Isn't he very attentive?" "I should think he had been," was the quiet reply, as the fair speaker glanced at the interesting group of little ones.

The Daily Union Vedette.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 8, 1866.

OVER THE BORDER.

Canada has long been in a dangerous state exactly of fear, but of uncertainty, of a Fenian invasion. There has been a great deal of preparation for some grand enterprise by the leaders of this order, a vast amount of money has been collected for some purpose, but still there has lingered a popular impression that the whole scheme would result in a grand fizzle, if indeed it did not turn out a complete swindle.

While the sympathies of a very large majority of Americans would heartily attend any genuine enterprise calculated to humble the haughty crest of perfidious Albion, the squabble which has been going on of late among rival leaders in the Fenian Brotherhood has had a strong tendency to bring the whole thing into ridicule. This state of things English sympathizers have made the most of until the supposed schemes of the Order became a matter of good-natured derision.

It seems, however, that all the energy, at one time supposed to animate its members, has not departed—evaporated as was popularly believed. There is intense excitement created in the east, it seems, by a revival of the smouldering fires of Fenianism, manifested this time, if reports are to be credited, in a manner indicative of serious designs, showing that the fears of the Canadians on the score of invasion have not been altogether without foundation.

It is reported that a force of fifteen hundred men has crossed the Niagara river, below Buffalo, and taken up an entrenched position on the Canadian frontier; that a conflict has ensued in which a number are said to have been killed, and that considerable excitement prevailed in consequence, everybody being on the alert for further developments. It may be added that there seems to be a concerted movement of forces from many diverse points, and altogether the thing has an ugly look.

It is stated that this enterprise has been undertaken in disregard of orders from Stephens, the Chief of the order. We suspect this statement is merely intended to frustrate suspicion and prevent trouble to the directors, who will remain behind to await the issue and adopt such measures as circumstances may require. It will readily be perceived that, to do this, they must remain unmolested by Government interference, hence it is necessary that common report should divert suspicion from them. It seems to us that such would be a very natural and necessary procedure.

It is obvious that, unless promptly supported, the little force already on Canadian territory must soon be overwhelmed. In view of this fact and of the difficulties to be encountered in attempting to reinforce them, now we are led to look upon this demonstration as a mere feint, intended to draw off attention from other points, concentrate the provisional forces in a position the least dangerous to the invaders, when, having accomplished this, the real attack will be made elsewhere. If, as stated, this scheme be undertaken by some impetuous spirits, contrary to the command of their leaders, want of co-operation will probably insure defeat.

As yet everything connected with the affair is a matter of uncertain speculation. And here we are reminded of a rumor, current some time ago, that Stephens had been bought over by the English Government, and was permitted to escape from prison in order to act as their tool in defeating the objects of the order in America. This may account for the inattention paid to his mandates by those who have undertaken this forlorn hope, for as such we must regard it. The conquest of Canada ought not to be accomplished very easily. If the services of all the manly population can be relied upon by the Government, it would seem an easy task to crush such an enterprise. If, on the contrary, the Fenians have assurance of a serious division among the Canadians themselves, then the affair presents a very different appearance. This latter supposition seems to be supported to some extent by the undue excitement manifested in anticipation of this event on the part of the colonial authorities. In the event of failure this raid will have the effect of driving the provinces into confederation, or of precipitating them into the Union, where they naturally belong. On its part, our Government has taken prompt measures to prevent an infraction of neutrality, obligations to which, we dare say, we shall be as successful as was England in the case of the Anglo-rebel privateers. The example she has so recently set, may be followed to her sorrow sooner than she anticipated—the cup of humiliation which she presented to us she may yet have the pleasure of drinking to the bitter dregs—in which there would be nothing but strict poetical justice.

"MARK TWAIN," the Artemus Ward of the California press, was formerly a printer in the office of the Executive Journal. His real name is Samuel Clemens, and Orion is a brother of Orion Clemens, once part proprietor of the Journal establishment.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

Washington, June 4.

Henderson and Doolittle made speeches against the reconstruction programme and several amendments to it were rejected.

The Union Senators held a caucus after the adjournment; the proceedings were secret.

HOUSE.

Price of Iowa introduced a bill providing that all civil officers appointed by the President or heads of departments, except clerks, shall hold office for four years from date of appointment, and shall not be subject to removal during their term, except for malfeasance, and in all cases where advice and consent of the Senate is necessary to appoint, the same advice and consent shall be necessary before any removal.

The House cleared its calendar to day of the resolutions which have been lying over since March, none of them of much importance, but the prompt refusal of the House to act upon Dawson's resolution, offered on the 18th of March, to the effect that the United States cannot guarantee the arms of Mexico taken, to indicate a disposition to look favorable upon the endorsement scheme.

New York, June 1.

Advices from the seat of war on the Panama river, South America, are important. There was a fearful slaughter on April 10th of 12,000 Paraguayins, who attacked the Brazilians on the island opposite Atapeture. 10,000 Brazilians crossed the Panama on the 16th without opposition, drove the enemy, defeating 3000 of them the next morning and occupied Atapeture. The Paraguayins had retreated and the Brazilians crossed the Upper Panama river, and reached the railway within 30 miles of the capital. Humanti cannot be held, and a speedy end of the war is anticipated.

Further advices from Callos say the government of Gen. Parado is more popular than ever since the fight, and all the Spanish subjects were ordered to leave the Republic, under penalty of perpetual imprisonment.

A grand celebration, of the victory, took place at Lima on the 13th.

Toronto, June 2.

Early this morning troops left Post Colborn under command of Col. Booker, of the 13th Queen's Own, and three miles from Ridgeway Station the Fenians were found encamped in the bushes. The column at once attacked them, the volunteers driving the Fenians. A number were killed on both sides. The volunteers behaved splendidly, rushing at the retreating Fenians with the utmost gallantry. It is thought the volunteers will at least hold their own until the arrival of the British regulars and artillery.

LATER, 12.30 P. M.

The battle is still going on. The Queen's Own and the regulars from Toronto were two hours behind time in leaving. The forces engaged previous to their arrival were about equally opposed, they were about 2000 strong.

LATER, 1.30 P. M.

Despatches just received state that the Queen's Own were driven back with a loss of some 15 killed and 30 wounded; but on rallying up drove the Fenians back with considerable loss.

Buffalo, June 2., 2.40 P. M.

The latest reports say that the troops at Ridgeway were being hard pressed by the Fenians. At 4 P. M. the Fenians were reported beaten. Canadian loss 20 killed and a number wounded. Fenian loss it is supposed was more heavy, mostly prisoners.

5.30 P. M.—The steam tug Robb arrived at Ft. Erie with about 40 Fenians taken prisoners at Ridgeway. She was lying at the dock, when 200 Fenians came over the hill and fired into her. The tug backed into the stream and fired two shots while floating down. The Fenians then attacked the company of volunteer artillery, posted in town, and after a brief resistance the Canadians wavered and finally gave way, retreating down the bank, rallying at times. The tug steamed down stream, being abreast of the Canadians. The firing finally ceased and the Canadians surrendered. The affair lasted about twenty minutes. The Fenians did not recapture any of their men. The fight was witnessed by a large number of persons on this side.

Buffalo, June 2—6 P. M.

Accounts from the battle of Ridgeway are so conflicting that it is almost impossible to get the truth. Some still assert that the Fenians drove and whipped the Canadians, and others to the contrary.

Col. Starr, commanding the Fenians, gave orders to scatter and save themselves. The affair at Fort Erie this afternoon was brief, but severe. A Canadian Captain wounded and a Fenian Captain killed. The British forces consisted of the 47th, 16th and 10th regulars and artillery, besides the Canadian volunteers, now en route for Fort Erie, and a fight is expected there to-night.

New York, June 1.

The Fenians are momentarily expecting important news from the St. Lawrence. Gen. Sweeney was expected to cross the river somewhere below Rouses' Point to-day. Gen. Sweeney left New York last night in citizen's clothes, followed and proceeded by 5,000 men from the 1st, 4th and 6th wards—desperate cases, ready for anything. To-day the streets are filled with Union officers and soldiers and naval men, asking for Sweeney's head-quarters. They say they have had four years service and want more.

A St. Albans' dispatch says the Fenians are moving in that direction, commanded by Major Speer, late of the regular army. Swanton is said to be their rendezvous. St. Albans is quiet this morning.

A Toronto dispatch says there are at least 4,000 troops within a few hours march of the enemy, and plenty more in reserve.

Buffalo, June 3—2 P. M.

Parties here who have the best means of information, say the Fenian movement from this direction is only a feint, and that Pottsdam is to be the base of supplies, and the real point of attack is Prescott. Surprise is, however, expressed that no news have been received from other points of any demonstration. Somebody has evidently failed to come to time.

Buffalo, June 4.

All quiet on the Niagara. Gen. Meade and U. S. District Attorney Hunt have gone to Pottsdam, and will take up Sweeney.

Chicago June 4.

The Fenian invasion at Fort Erie has terminated disastrously. From the mass of dispatches it appears that reinforcements attempted to cross Niagara river on Saturday night and were driven back by the U. S. patrol boats. The situation on the Canada side being perilous, from the close proximity of 3,000 British regulars under Col. Gordon, Col. O'Neil, commanding the Fenian invaders, attempted to retreat under cover of darkness on Sunday morning, when the General, staff and from three to five hundred men were picked up by the patrol boats. They are now on rafts, anchored in the river, a few miles below Buffalo, under cover of the guns of the U. S. steamer Michigan, it being thought unsafe to bring them ashore, for fear a rescue might be attempted by several hundred wild Irishmen who swarm the American shore.

The British troops now guard their meagre frontier and are picking up Fenian stragglers, 2 or 300 of whom are estimated to have remained after the evacuation.

The Fenian loss probably will not exceed 25 killed. The British loss is estimated at 50 killed and wounded. The entire invading force did not exceed 1,000.

General Barry having assumed command of the American frontier from Erie, Pa. to Oswego, is prepared to prevent any further breach of neutrality. He is awaiting instructions from Washington what do with the Fenian prisoners.

Gov. Fenton has not yet called out any militia, and will not, unless upon requisition of the Government. The air is filled with rumors of demonstrations, real and threatened, from all points, from Port Colburn to St. Albans.—There does not, however, at the present writing appear to be any evidence that anything beyond mere threatened attacks have been made from any point except from Buffalo.

General Sweeney was at Albany yesterday and started last night for Pottsdam.

A despatch from Albany says the Niagara failure does not discourage the Fenians, and that there is great enthusiasm for another invasion in stronger force.

A despatch from Detroit says that 4,800 Fenian rifles were seized there yesterday.

Despatches from Canada represent great excitement at Toronto, Montreal and all principal places yesterday, but the belief is expressed that the military preparations are so thorough that no further invasion need be apprehended.

Washington, June 4.

Sir Frederick Bruce, British Minister, had a long interview with Secretary Seward to-day, and it is said asked Government to surrender to the Canadian authorities the Fenians captured by the U. S steamer Michigan. The request was not complied with, as it has not been decided what course Government will pursue in disposing of those that fall into our hands.—Most probably they will be turned over to the civil authorities for trial for violation of the neutrality laws.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., June 4.

General Meade and staff are perfecting arrangements to preserve the neutrality laws.—He came as far as DeKalb Junction on the same train with Gen. Sweeney and some 200 Fenians. General Meade thinks the Fenians gathered in northern New York mean fight. Sweeney and his men left DeKalb Junction for Malone, N. Y., where nearly 1,000 Fenians are gathered. Three companies of regulars had arrived at Ogdensburg, and 18 companies are now at Prescott.—Two British mail steamers are kept fired up, ready to transport troops to any point.

Buffalo June 4.

About 18 cases of arms were seized by the U. S. authorities at Central depot to day. Several hundred Fenians arrived in this city this evening and the Fenians still hint at a movement on the frontier, especially as there is but a small body of British troops at Fort Erie.

Another Company of U. S. Artillery from Ft. Independence arrived this evening. The U. S. authorities are using every effort to preserve neutrality. The Fenians are preparing for a movement.

Chicago June 6.

The Fenian excitement continues without a new invasion of Canada. If the Fenians were one half as active and belligerent, as some gentlemen engaged in getting up telegraphic news, they would have had Canada before this time. It is nevertheless certain, that great activity exists among the Fenian Circles throughout the country and that men are hurried forward from all parts of the country. This looks ominous and gives reason for concluding, that there is more trouble ahead. The Fenian forces being massed at Detroit, Buffalo, Pottsdam, Malone and St. Albans, towards which points trains heavily loaded with armed bodies of men are running. Reports are so conflicting, that it is impossible to state how many Fenians are in the field out probably not less than 10,000.

A Proclamation was issued through the Attorney General, ordering the U. S. District Attorneys and marshals to arrest all leaders and conspirators known as Fenians who have been or are about to be guilty of a violation of neutrality.

Foreign News.

New York, June 3.

The steamers Herman and Martha bring foreign dates of the 23d ult.

The London Post of the 22d, published a Paris telegram stating that it is definitely arranged that the representatives of France, England and Russia on one side, and those of Austria, Prussia and Italy on the other side, will assemble at Paris under the presidency of D. S. Huys, for the formal opening of the conference to solve the pending questions between Prussia, Austria and Italy.

It is reported at Paris that Lord Howell, the British Ambassador at Paris, will shortly proceed to Vienna.

The London Herald says the Congress for conference can do nothing more than adjourn, unless one or the other combatants becomes exhausted under the preparations.

Official. The Dresden Journal of the 21st says that Congress is to go by all the powers and would meet on the 25th.

According to some authorities Austria evinced no inclination to join the conference, and it was asserted that she would persist and probably be represented pro. tem. by England and Russia. There is however no indication of a relaxation in the military preparations by the several powers, and the almost universal feeling was that a pacific solution was hopeless.

LATEST.

Liverpool, May 23—P. M.

The European crisis is unchanged. The statement that all the powers consented to the Congress was premature, but it is confirmed that invitations were sent out.

Farther Point, June 4.

The steamer Nova Scotia from Liverpool the 24th ult., via Londonderry the 25th ult. arrived.

Consols 86½@86¾. The political situation is unchanged. More failures are reported, and the financial affairs are gloomy. The combined Russian and Turkish corps d'armee entered Moldavia on the 22d. Omar Pasha commands the Turks, and Gen. Kotzebue commands the Russian troops.

SEVEN officers and seven men of the crew of the United States sloop of war Kearsarge recently died on her passage from the coast of Africa to Lisbon, Portugal. Surgeon Vreuland was one of the first to die, leaving the sick without medical care. The other deceased officers are Second Assistant Engineers Joel B. From the Great Indian Council at Ft. Laramie.

The Sioux Object to the Powder River Route being Used by the Whites—They Want More Presents, &c.

Fort Laramie, June 6.

Editor Vedette:—The Indian Council met to-day at 10 a. m. "Red Cloud," "Spotted Tail," "Standing Elk" and "The Man Afraid of his Horses" made short speeches. Without exception, they object to the whites traveling through their country via Powder River. They want peace, but have not decided on the terms. They desire the Great Father to remunerate the mountaineers for stolen stock, and to send good agents among them who will deal fairly and not swindle them. There are about 500 Indians, in all, near the Post, composed almost wholly of the important men of the Sioux tribe. The larger proportion are about 20 miles north of here, where their families can subsist on game and animals graze.

The preliminaries have just commenced, and several days will be required to complete the treaty.

Government is feeding large numbers of them and doing everything to bring about peace.

The troops to occupy the Powder River country are expected here on the 10th inst. They number some 2,000.
